Fuel Parts UK appoints new Business Development Executive

David McKinnon joins Fuel Parts UK as its Scottish and Northern England representative.

Fuel Parts UK, a leading supplier of premium fuel and emissions components, has made a new addition to its field sales team after appointing David McKinnon as its representative for the Scottish and Northern England regions.

David has worked over 30 years in the motor trade. His experience has included 7 years as a mechanic and 23 years in the aftermarket, covering a wide range of products, everything from steering and suspension, performance parts, paint to engine management components and Catalytic Converters.

As the Fuel Parts representative for the North – an area including all counties from Cumbria to Inverness-shire, McKinnon will be responsible for dealing with the company's entire portfolio.

Fuel Parts sales director, John Lord, said: "David's knowledge of the automotive aftermarket is second to none. I'm sure his expertise will enhance the confidence our customers have in us and our products."

McKinnon is relishing the challenge that his new role at FPUK will bring and he cited the strong relationship that he already has with a number of Fuel Parts customers as the foundations he is planning to build on.

David commented "As the Scottish and northern England representative, my targets are to increase business and to enhance the service that I can give to the customers. I'm planning to be as flexible as I can to make sure they get the best out of Fuel Parts as a company and the products that we offer."
