Fuel Parts Branches out into Republic of Ireland

Company announces new Republic of Ireland distributor network

Fuel Parts UK, the leading manufacturer and supplier of fuel and emissions components, has announced a partnership with Premco Distributors Limited.

As part of a new markets initiative, Premco Distributors in Greenogue Business Park, south Dublin have been appointed to lead the company's Republic of Ireland distribution network. Jim Finan, Premco Distributors said "We are excited to be distributing Fuel Parts products and our customers can look forward to exceptional services, range and availability coupled with premium quality products and technical support".

Commenting on the growth of the company, managing director Andy West sees that the appointment will help drive their goal to be the number one choice for aftermarket components in the UK and Republic of Ireland. Andy continued, "the Premco distribution partnership will enable a greater number of motor factors and garages to access all of Fuel Parts' OE quality products.

Ranges include ignition coils, mass air flow meters, direct fit lambda sensors, crank sensors, catalytic converters, fuel pumps, rotating electrics plus much more".
